

Erin Small

North Charleston, South Carolina

Erin is a first year Teacher of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing at North Charleston Elementary School in South Carolina. After graduating in December, she is now teaching kindergarten through fifth grade in a specialized Deaf and Hard of Hearing program. She is thrilled to have received the BookLove classroom library grant, and now will be able to purchase books featuring Deaf characters to share with her students. With a love for reading herself, she is very excited to share her passion with her students.