

Kathy Dinh - Ontario, Canada

Book Love Foundation Recipient

→ ABOUT:

Kathy Dinh is an educator who believes in fostering a love for reading among her high school students. Central to her reading pedagogy is the idea of empowering students to explore and embrace their agency, rather than ignoring or dismissing their own or others' experiences. For Kathy, reading is not just about acquiring knowledge rather, reading is about creating meaningful experiences for her students.

One of Kathy's key beliefs is that students should have access to books reflecting their lived experiences. She believes in providing literature that affirms and validates students' backgrounds, identities, and cultures. By doing so, Kathy aims to create a learning environment where students feel seen, heard, and valued.

Thanks to the Book Love Foundation, Kathy's classroom will include a wide range of texts that encompass different cultures and perspectives. The love of reading and the love of books will be an experience for all of her students!

Any win in the classroom is a win with Ms. Dinh!
