Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada

Madison is a second year grade 7-11 English Language Arts teacher at Gray Academy of Jewish Education in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. As the daughter of an English teacher, Madison spent her childhood among stacks of books. She firmly believes that the classroom should be place where students can explore themselves and who they hope to become - the highest compliment she has received in her teaching career is “Ms H is herself and she lets us be who we are” - and that books, by their very nature, help students see themselves and the world in new ways to discover who it is they’d like to be.

Madison is thrilled that the Book Love grant empowers her to share boundless potential of literature, opening doors to new worlds and insights for her students.
