I am a brand new teacher, fresh out of college and set to teach 1st grade at Sunset View Elementary; thus, this grant from the Book Love Foundation will allow me to start my classroom library with quality books that my young readers will not only enjoy but also learn from as they explore elements of democracy, character traits and topics of their interest.

Although I struggled to learn to read at first, with the right books, my parents and teachers were able to motivate me to persevere through the challenge of decoding and instill within me a love to read as they placed books in front of me that captivated and intrigued me with their stories.

My hope for the scholars that will enter my classroom, is that with these books from the Love Foundation, I can do what my parents and teachers did for me which is to inspire change, resilience, appreciation and excitement through literature.
